

Table of Contents

NOAO Highlights	3	KPNO Operations	30
M32—A Galaxy Becomes a Star Cluster	3	Time of Many Changes	30
Going for the Flow	4	Reminders about Observing Opportunities	30
NSO Adaptive Optics Operating Successfully at the Dunn Solar Telescope and the German VTT	5	New Director for WIYN	31
High Altitude Clouds	7	FLAMINGOS on Kitt Peak, Maybe!	32
Stokes Mapping of Solar Magnetic Fields at 12 μm Wavelength	9	Upgrades to KPNO Mosaic CCD Imager	33
Director's Office	10	Margaret Edmondson Fellowship	33
An Observing System: What Does It Mean and How Do We Get There?	10	Phoenix Continues at Kitt Peak	35
NOAO—A Partnership with the Community	11	SQIID Begins Science Observations	36
Observational Programs	13	US Gemini Program	38
NOAO Nighttime Proposals Due for 2001A	13	Status of the Gemini Telescopes	38
2001A Gemini Proposals	13	Gemini Demonstration Science Programs	39
The Gemini Time Allocation Process— A New Game	14	US Gemini Instrumentation Program Update	40
Proposals for the Hobby-Eberly Telescope	16	US Gemini SAC Meets in Pasadena	41
MMT Begins Scientific Observations—No Call for New MMT Proposals this Semester	17	National Solar Observatory	43
Keck/NIRSPEC Time Available to US Community	18	From the NSO Director's Office	43
NOAO Observing Time through HST Cycle 10 Proposals	18	Doug Rabin Joins NASA	44
New Surveys to Begin	19	Toward AO at the McMath Pierce Telescope —Part II	45
Instruments Available in 2001A	19	SOLIS	46
CTIO Instruments Available	20	Research Experiences for Teachers at NSO	46
KPNO Instruments Available	21	Another Busy Summer for Students at NSO	47
HET Instruments Available	22	Understanding Spectroheliograms—Insights from Spectral Line Analysis	51
Gemini Instruments Expected to Be Available	22	Solar Spectrum Atlases	52
CTIO Operations	23	NSO Observing Proposals	53
CTIO Telescope and Instrument Combinations —the Future	23	NSO Telescope/Instrument Combinations	53
SOAR Update	24	GONG	54
Curtis Schmidt Telescope Closure	25	NOAO Educational Outreach	57
1.5-m BME Spectrograph to be Retired	27	Staffing, Grants, and Supplements	57
New Arrivals	27	Project Astro—Tucson Seeking Astronomers and Teachers, Locally and Nationwide	58
Undergraduates Wanted for the 2001 CTIO REU Program!	29	Fourth Annual RBSE Workshop Under Way	58
		Research Experiences for Undergraduates and Teachers	60
		Publications	61
		NOAO Preprint Series	61
		Other NOAO and NSO Papers	61