

ORCID

ORCID® IDs are unique researcher digital identifiers designed to provide a transparent method for linking researchers and contributors to their activities and outputs. They are becoming required for certain publications/publishers, and they also provide a way for you to maintain a listing of your publications.

ORCID website is at <https://orcid.org>.

A listing of known NOAO Scientific Staff ORCID IDs are on NOAO Library website at https://www.noao.edu/noao/library/ORCID_Identifiers_NOAO_Staff.pdf and the ORCID IDs are included in the 2017 publication listings on the NOAO Library website at https://www.noao.edu/noao/library/NOAO_FY17_Publications.html#Staff.

Adding Citations to Your ORCID Profile

You can add citations manually or import citations from elsewhere. See the drop-down menu under the Works subsection of your ORCID profile.
